7th - 17th November 2017

On 7th November 2017 the College tour group comprising of 52 students and 7 staff members departed from Margao railway station by the Goa Sampark Kranti Express. The group reached Jaipur on 8th November night.

9th November was the first day of sight-seeing, which started with the Laxmi-Narayan temple popularly known as Birla Mandir, Jaipur. It was a beautiful place, clean and tidy, entirely made of marble - both the interior and exterior, beautiful artwork, well-maintained spic and span campus. A good experience to begin with. Later the group visited Hawa Mahal and City Palace, followed by Jantar Mantar - a marvel. The structures which stand show such scientific ingenuity that the exact time can be determined by the shadow cast on it by the sun's rays. After lunch, the group proceeded to visit the Amer Fort - a climb uphill and a beautiful view of the city. Evening time was for shopping.

On 10th November the team left for Bikaner. The Indian Council for Agricultural Research has a Research Centre on Camels in Bikaner. There were varieties of camels - white, brown, dark, hairy, etc. and camels of different age groups - new-born, mothers, young ones, etc. Different articles like ornaments, bags, garments, show-pieces all made of camel skin, bones, hair and other parts were displayed for sale. The team also tasted tea, coffee, ice-cream, etc. made of camel milk. Next visit was to the famous Karni Mata Temple. It was a unique temple with hundreds and thousands of rats moving freely all about the temple including the sanctum sanctorum. 11th November the team visited the Lalgarh Palace and museum followed by Junagarh Fort - an ancient Rajputana Fort.
