The Department of Commerce & Management organized a Guest Lecture in the subject - Fundamentals of Accounting for the students of SY B.Com. The Resource Person for the session was Mr Bodila, Certified Corporate Trainer, Business Coach & HR Consultant. The session was held on 18th April 2022 in online mode through zoom from 10.00 to 11.30 am. The topic of the session was Financial Wellness Enhancement. The session began with the introduction of the Resource Person by Ms. Minoska Fernandes, student of SY B.Com A. Mr. Bodila began the session by discussing about how one should take control over financial future. In general, people subtract their mandatory outflows and expenses from their income and the balance is then saved. But ideally, the mandatory outflows and savings should first be kept aside and then the expenses can be adjusted accordingly. Later the concept of inflation was explained using relevant examples of investing in a fixed deposit that provides an interest rate that is less than the inflation rate.

With appropriate examples, the concept of compounding interest was explained. Appropriate investment classes were discussed that help beat inflation and also are tax deductible. Mutual Funds as an investment avenue was explained with a detail of what to check while investing in mutual funds such as its returns, expense ratio, portfolio composition, size of the fund, category, investment blend etc. Students were also taught how to map the mutual funds to your goals.

The Resource Person then answered various queries put forth by the students regarding investment in the stock market. The session was well appreciated by the students. 65 students of SY B.Com attended the session. Ms. Madhuri Sharma from SY B.Com A proposed the Vote of Thanks.

The Placement Cell organized Soft Skills training program, for the registered students of the Placement Cell across all programs of the College. The program was conducted in two batches through hybrid mode. The first batch was from 20th to 29th April 2022 and the second batch was from 06th to 11th May 2022. The Resource Person for the program was Ms. Caroline Stewart Silva.

Ms. Silva intensively covered a total of five modules, based on Soft Skills, which were,

a) Art of communication and listening skills, b) Conflict management, c) Teamwork and interpersonal skills, d) Time management, and e) Business/ email/ social media etiquette, for the training period.

The introductory session – Module 1, encompassed the Art of Communication and Listening Skills, wherein topics like the meaning of verbal and para verbal communication, 7 C's of communication, process, barriers, and tips to overcome such barriers were extensively taught to the students. Students were also enlightened by the Resource Person's expert knowledge of listening skills, wherein she stressed the importance of active listening.

The following session – Module 2 was on Conflict Management, wherein Ms. Silva discussed the meaning, types, and reasons for conflicts. She stressed the techniques to manage conflicts like competing, accommodating, avoiding, collaborating and compromising. She also emphasized the importance of the role of attitude and concluded her session on the module with the help of two case studies.

The next session – Module 3 was pertaining to Teamwork and Interpersonal Skills. Ms. Silva began the session by introducing the concept of interpersonal skills and went on to discuss the tips to improve interpersonal skills like having empathy, not complaining, asking for yourself, being open, being tactful, etc. She also emphasized the importance of teamwork and the stages of team management – forming, storming, norming, and performing. Ms. Silva tactfully conducted this session with the help of some activities.

The subsequent session – Module 4 was on Time management. Ms. Silva began the session with an activity, wherein she managed to highlight the significance of time management. She stressed areas such as time versus task management, misconceptions about time management, and the importance of doing things right, not fast. She also shared tips on things to be done in situations when there are too many tasks on schedule, like assigning a time limit to each task, do not procrastinate, having a direction, organizing, recording daily activities, etc. She concluded the session by sharing an inspirational story on time management.

The final session – Module 5 encompassed Business/ Email/ Social Media Etiquettes. Ms. Silva, in this session, stressed the Do's and Don't s, in business, while composing and writing an email, and different types of etiquette, like punctuality, business card protocols, email etiquette, meeting etiquette, dining etiquette, online etiquette (netiquette), etc. She also shared useful tips on dressing for a business meeting, an interview, and the like. She concluded this session with a quiz.

87 registered students of the Placement Cell across all programs attended the training. The entire training by Ms. Caroline Stewart Silva was highly interactive and enriching, which has undeniably provided immense insights into the required soft skills.

The session was conducted by the Asst. Prof. Lizette D'Costa, Faculty in charge, Placement Cell, under the guidance of Dr. Maithili Naik, Convenor, Placement Cell.

A Session was organized for all the teaching faculty of the College on 5th May 2022 from 12.45 to 1.45 pm in the Smart Classroom. The Speaker for this session was Mr. Andre Pacheco Assistant Professor, Department of Computer Science. For each subject in the curriculum, the course objectives and the learning outcomes are defined and these have to be evaluated by the subject faculty on a regular basis to ensure that the program outcomes and the course outcomes are being met. After CO statements are developed by the course in-charge, COs have to be mapped with any possible PO's or PSO's based on the relationship that exists between them. So, the objective behind having the session was to provide an overview on how to map and assess the attainment of course outcomes. For a course we map the COs to POs through the CO-PO matrix.

Mr. Andre started the session by explaining the process of mapping programme outcomes and programme specific outcomes to the course outcomes. He also explained in brief the construction of a CO-PO assignment matrix and the course outcomes assessment tools and highlighted the various correlation levels. He further explained how mapping can be done for individual subjects with the help of a sample CO statement giving an example.

It was a very interactive and an informative session. 43 teachers attended the same. The Principal appreciated the speaker for his efforts in planning, designing and preparing the assessment and mapping matrix and for conducting a session for all the staff members. She further instructed the teachers to implement and start mapping the CO's to the PO's and PSO's for all the subjects taken up for even semester. Further, she directed the teachers to mention the cognitive level along with the course outcome in the question paper for the upcoming semester end examination. The session attended at 1.45pm.
