Tech Talk -Peer To Peer Teaching Learning

28th November 2020

The Department of Computer Science conducted a Tech Talk for the students of FYBCA as a part of Peer-to-Peer teaching learning. FYBCA student Mr. Yashodhan Sawadekar conducted the session on Git Hub, which is widely used by developers. The session was held on 28th November 2020 from 11.00 a.m. to 1.00 p.m.

Through his well-organized presentation, Mr. Yashodhan explained to his fellow mates what the Git open-source version control system is, and through a practical demonstration, explained how it helps developers to make constant changes to the code.

He explained that Git is a command-line tool and the centre around which all things involving Git revolve; it is the hub, where developers store their projects. He elaborated upon how it helps to network with like-minded people. He demonstrated how GitHub can be used to store projects and how a team working on a project can collaborate and handle project revisions.

The session was very practical and students were able to understand how they can use GitHub effectively for their practical courses.

The 86 FYBCA students, who were present, appreciated the session. Faculty members Mr. Sumit Kumar and Ms. Akshada Hegde congratulated Mr. Yashodhan for his able handling of the topic.

The session ended with Ms. Namita Neurenkar, the faculty in-charge appreciating and thanking Mr. Yashodhan for making a very informative practical presentation. She informed students that during a mentoring session, Yashodhan had revealed that he was using GitHub, and the Department thought of organizing the session. She explained that Tech Talk – Peer-to-Peer Teaching-Learning aims to provide students with a platform to share what they know with others, and in the process evolve as confident young individuals.

Guest Lecture on Materials Management

28th November 2020

The PG Department organized a guest lecture in Materials Management for M.Com students on November 28th, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. The Resource Person was Ms. Radha Shinkre, Director, Sincro Hotels Pvt Ltd, Goa. The session began with the introduction of the resource person. Ms. Radha Shinkre completed her degree in the food industry at the Culinary Arts Academy in Switzerland. She completed her internship in Dubai at the JW Marriott Marquis, and continued to work at JW Marriott Marquis for 2 years before coming back to Goa and taking charge of Sincro Hotels. Her intensive internship and experience gained at JW Marriott Marquis helped her to handle the business in Goa. At JW Marriott Marquis, she had learnt to cater to 3000 to 4000 customers a day.

During her session, Ms. Shinkre mainly focused on kitchen inventory, which are mostly perishable and thus the need to store them properly and use various inventory management techniques to ensure proper utilization of resources.

Being in the food business, Ms. Shinkre stated that preparing the exact quantity is not possible, but can be estimated based on the day of the week. For example, one can expect more orders during the weekend than on weekdays.

Proper handling and storage of materials is very important to ensure the profitability of the business. For this purpose, she said she personally takes stock of the material at the end of the day and decides what needs to be purchased the next day. She believes in Supplier Development and Partnering and thus personally buys the supplies from her local vendor to check for freshness and quality. Certain groceries that can be purchased in bulk such as rice and dal, are purchased at a discount.

One should understand that the cost of the product is greatly influenced by the cost of the raw material. Thus, purchasing the material at the right price and quality is essential to the business.

The 48 students who attended had an interactive session on Materials Management. The session ended with the vote of thanks by Ms. Stacy Pereira of M.Com Part II.

Online Training Session

30th November – 7th December 2020

The Department of Computer Science organised Online Training sessions in Module N9002 requirements of the Qualification Pack for Junior Software Developer (JSD) from 30th November to 7th December, 2020. The sessions were conducted by Ms. Caroline Stewart Silva - Impact Training Solutions through Google Meet platform for the FY B.Voc.(ST) students and two TYBCA Students who enrolled to answer the certification exam.

Session I began with an introduction of Ms. Caroline Silva by Mrs. Sweta P. Shet Verenkar Asst. Professor, Dept of Computer Science.

The sessions covered the following topics:

- Introduction to Communication, Importance & Damage Done Due to Poor Communication
- Verbal Communication Importance & Overcoming barrier to Communication
- Non Verbal Communication and Written Communication
- Professionalism at the Workplace and Teamwork works

All the sessions were engaging and interactive. At the end of each session, feedback was taken from students through a Google Form Link. Students participated with great interest in the Teamwork Activities. 28 students participated in the training (26 FY B.Voc (ST) and 02 TYBCA Students).

On the last day, Mrs. Sweta P. Shet Verenkar expressed gratitude towards Ms. Caroline Silva for conducting the sessions. Ms. Mervia Andrade provided all the technical help needed for the smooth conduct of the sessions.

Workshop on
'Effective Professional
Communication Skills -
Conquering Language Barriers'

TUESDAY, 1ST DECEMBER 2020

TIME: 11.00 a.m. - 12.30 p.m.

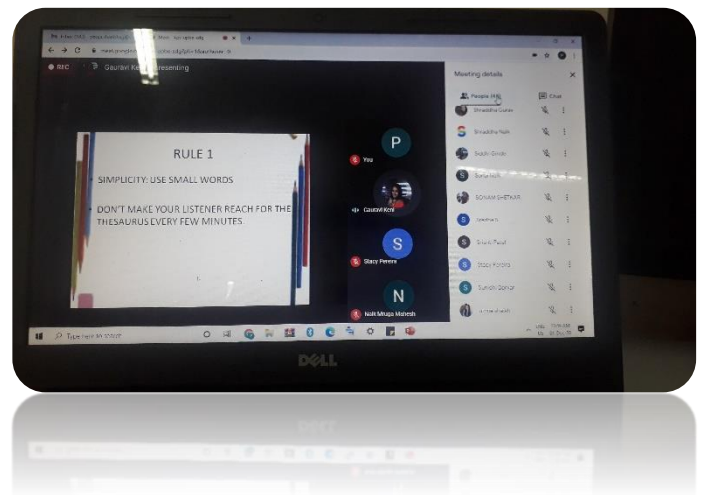

Dr. Prita D. Mallya
Professor and Principal

Dr. Rodney D'Silva
M.Com Coordinator

Ms. Pooja Shanbhag
Workshop Coordinator

Good verbal and written communication skills are essential in order to deliver and understand information quickly and accurately. Being able to communicate is an important life skill and should not be overlooked. Higher educational and professional workspaces require effective communication skills. Throughout their years in the college, students are exposed to situations where they have to use their communication skills, for example group assignments, inter-collegiate events, class presentations, research presentation etc. To help students enhance their writing and speaking skills, the Post-Graduate Department of the College organised an online workshop on the topic 'Effective Professional Skills - Conquering Language Barriers', on 1st December 2020 from 11:00 a.m. to 12.30 p.m. for the students of M.Com Part I and Part II.

The speaker for the session was Mrs. Gauravi Khaunte, Language and Communication Skills Trainer. Mrs. Khaunte stressed on having correct pronunciations, using appropriate phrases, highlighted and rectified common errors that students normally make while writing sentences/reports and words that are misspelt on a regular basis. She also discussed the basic etiquettes to be followed while drafting letters/emails and ways to improve vocabulary. At the end, the speaker emphasized the ten rules or mantras of speaking professionally.

The session gave students an opportunity to learn and understand different ways of communicating. They also understood the importance of verbal and written communication in the professional world, and found the workshop very informative and beneficial. The compere for the program was Ms. Mruga Naik, student of M.Com Part II. The session ended at 12.30 p.m., with a vote of thanks proposed by Ms. Pooja Shanbhag, Asst. Professor in Commerce and Workshop Coordinator. 51 participants attended the session.
